

<mailto:luna@us.es>

+34 954557623

PAULA LUNA HUERTAS is a Full Professor of the University of Sevilla (Spain), Department of Financial Economy and Operations Research. She lectures in the areas of Information System/ Information Technologies, E-Business, Web Marketing in the Faculty of Management Sciences (Cathedralic Professor).

Graduated and Ph. Doctor in Economics and Management Sciences. She has given conferences in diverse institutions, courses and masters, as well as more than 50 doctorate courses in diverse Universities so much Spanish as European and American.

Member and co-founder of the research group GITICE (Research Group Information Technology and Communications) since 1993, SEJ 138 Inventory of Research Groups and Technological Development of the Government of Andalusia.

She has been directing different scientific projects both at national and international levels, authoring and co-authoring more than 20 scientific works, 12 books, 29 chapters in books, more than 30 articles in scientific magazines and more than half hundred of reports in national and international congresses.